Tailored support for young people and their families

What does Jabiru do?

Through our School-age Care and Community Engagement enterprises, as well as via Jabiru Community College, we offer the following services aimed towards 10–17 year olds:

- 👉 Group programs
- 👉 School-based support
- 👉 Therapeutic counselling and support
- 👉 Equine therapy
- 👉 Community-based work readiness
- 👉 Art therapy and music therapy.

Why choose Jabiru?

Jabiru has been working with young people for more than 25 years — embedded in communities across south-east Queensland in line with our collaborative and holistic approach:

- 👉 We have a support framework that positions the individual in control of their journey with utmost respect for human rights, culture and self-determination
- 👉 We have robust and capable governance and operational support systems
- 👉 We are tertiary qualified
- 👉 We understand the complexity and intersection of challenges that young people can experience, including disability, mental health and trauma
- 👉 We are a registered National Disability Insurance Scheme provider.

Jabiru's Health and Wellbeing program is all about community, family and individual engagement.

It includes family support, community development, school-based individual support, early years initiatives and work-readiness programs.

“Jabiru exists to partner with children, young people and families – with a particular focus on those experiencing vulnerabilities – by creating safe places and relationships that connect people, resources, ideas and communities.”
